Gilat Satcom has been providing global wholesale voice services, including transmission and system integration, to international operators, carriers, enterprises and government institutions since 1999. We have established strong partnerships with leading carriers in Europe, North America, Asia and Africa. Our extensive global partner network enables us to transport enormous volumes of data and voice traffic.

Wholesale VoIP

Gilat Satcom provides wholesale VoIP services at very competitive prices through our agreements with telcos and service providers around the world. Our strong presence in Africa, Asia and the Middle East coupled with our worldwide alliances enable us to deliver complete, global communication solutions for every need.

Premium services

Gilat Satcom VoIP services enable global organizations to route calls from their locations to any destination around the world. By offering end-to-end solutions that include infrastructure, system integration services, and complete support, we are able to deliver effective solutions fast and at optimal cost.

Our comprehensive satellite coverage provides access to remote areas where local connectivity is nonexistent or of poor quality. Our communications platform is directly connected to the Internet backbone enabling us to deliver a complete array of switched-voice services.

Our support services include a 24x7 dedicated Network Operation Center (NOC) continuously monitoring the links. By using fully redundant soft-switch technology, we can detect and provide immediate response to any network situation.

Benefits

- Wholesale voice services at attractive rates
- Worldwide coverage
- Turnkey solutions including the platform and integration services
- Global network of carrier partners
- Reliable service with 24x7 monitoring
- Independent billing solution
